UNIFORMED POLICE.

On Wednesday night the town council did a good thing when it voted to pay a policeman who shall give all his time to his official duties. He is to receive a fair salary and wear a uniform. William Thomas was elected as such policeman. Whether this office shall be continued more than a year will depend entirely upon how the new officer shall perform his duties. The town has no use for an officer who will do nothing but stand on the street corners and look fierce. If he wants his salary he must earn it. One of the first things to which Officer Thomas should turn his attention is the breaking up of the gangs of young men who infest the street corners on Sunday night, and make profane and indecent remarks in the hearing of ladies who are passing. Although this nuisance has existed for years, and been frequently commented on by the paper s, there has never been an arrest. An example should be made of a few, and that would put a stop to it for a time at least. We would call attention especially to the First National Bank corner, and the Third and Market corners where much annoyance has been felt.

Mr. Thomas is a good man for the place, and we have no doubt he will endeavor to perform his duty fully.

A LEAP YEAR EPISODE.

"I would not marry John Marryatt—not for $50,000!" said Avice Mere.

She said it, too, exactly as if she meant it, with reddened cheeks, eyes full of hazel fire, and two small, dimpled fists clenched tightly.

"My dear," said Penelope Paxton, one of those jovial old maids who are privileged to say anything, "you remind me of a famous historical character."

"I?" said Avice, momentarily off her guard.

"Yes," said Penelope. "Miss Betty Baxter, who refused Captain Jones before he axed her."

"Oh, it isn't that!" protested Avice, rosier than ever. "Of course Mr. Marryatt has no idea of asking me; why should he have? And if he did, I shouldn't accept him."

"Miss Betty Baxter," monotonously chanted Penelope, "who refused—"

"Penny, do be quiet!" said Avice, stamping her foot in genuine annoyance. "You know what I mean."

"No, I don't," said Penny, "and I don't believe you know yourself."

"He said it was leap year," pleaded indignant Avice.

"So it is," said Penn. "Get the almanac and look for yourself. Four into eighteen hundred and eighty-four goes—"

"Penelope," cried Avice, "can you not talk common sense?"

"To be sure I can, if you will set me the example!" gravely responded Miss Paxton.

"And he told Doctor Darien he wasn't coming to our party to-morrow night because he didn't want to be married against his will."

"Well, after all, there's something in that," said Penelope, reflectively, "I never was a man myself, but I can imagine that, under such circumstances, a cold shiver would go all through me."

"Penny," said Avice, solemnly, "do you really, seriously think that one of us girls ever thought of marrying John Marryatt?"

"That is a question I am not prepared to answer," said Miss Paxton.

Avice ran out of the room, and was surprised to find herself crying over the clove-scented blossoms of her favorite carnations in the bathroom window.

"I'm sure I don't know why," sobbed she. "I hate John Marryatt, and I think it was horrid of Doctor Darien to go and repeat what was said to him in confidence. And if John Marryatt really believed that—that—there, I won't think of it any more. Leap year, indeed! Why do people talk such a string of nonsense because the month of February happens to have 29 days in it instead of 28?"

In the meantime Mr. Marryatt had packed his valise and gone off to visit an old uncle who was at the point of death.

"It won't be a very cheerful visit," said he to himself, "but it will be better than a state of siege—for I have been told, on good authority, that every one of those girls mean to get engaged at the leap-year party, the saucy coquettes! It will be the old story of the Sabines over again, with the sexes reversed. And when I marry—if I marry—I intend to have at least the privilege of choice. So I'll just go up to Uncle Origen's."

Uncle Origen's farmhouse was on the top of a bleak hill, where a few dwarfed cherry trees shook and shuddered in the wintry blasts, and the cows huddled in the shelter of the hayricks to keep from being blown away.

"I think we are going to have a storm," said Mr. Marryatt. "I'm quite certain that I smell snow in the air. And there are more cheerful places during a northeast wind than Uncle Orgien's house."

In fact he was almost disposed to be sorry that he had come, when he stood there, knocking and thumping with the handle of his umbrella at the shrunken panels of the front door.

Pretty soon a crooked old man, with his garments fastened with tow strings instead of buttons, came shuffling to the door, and peeped suspiciously around it.

"Eh?" said he, with one hand back of his poor old purple ear. "'Pears to me I heard somebody knocking, didn't I?"

"Yes, it's me," said our hero, "John Marryatt, don't you know?"

"Married?" squeaked the old man. "To whom?"

"John—Mar—ry—att!" distinctly repeated the visitor. How is my Uncle Origen?"

The crooked old man sheltered his candle-flame with one hand and stared as if he were gradually being transformed into one huge eye.

"Land sakes alive!" said he. "Didn't you know? He was buried yesterday."

Here was a cheerful welcome for a city visitor.

"But what can I do?" said Marryatt, with a helpless gaze down the darkening hillside. "I came to visit him. I had not heard—"

"Walk in, walk in," said the old man, holding the flaring candle high above his head, and flattening himself against the whitewashed wall. "It's pretty lonesome here; but there's the deceased's chamber you can sleep in, and I trapped a rabbit this morning in the pine wood that Isabella's just stewing up, and—"

"Isabella?" repeated John Marryatt.

"She's the old woman in charge—my sister," explained the ancient warder of the castle. "Ain't much to look at, but she's a proper good cook."

"But," said Mr. Marryatt, "I don't think I care about sleeping in the room where Uncle Orgen died."

The old man stared at him with dull, glassy eyes.

"Eh?" said he. "Why not? You don't believe in speritooalism, do you?"

"Nonsense!" cried Marryatt.

"Then why ain't one room as good as another?" asked the old man, stolidly.

"Nevertheless, I would much rather go to the nearest hotel," impatiently uttered John.

"Ain't none short o' seven mile," said the old man. "And that's only a sumtaser machine. They don't run it arter the waterfalls are friz up. But there's a freight train with a passenger caboose hitched on that stops at Cutting Corners at midnight."

"Where is Cutting Corners?"

"Eight mile as the crow flies."

"How the dickens do you suppose I am to get eight miles from here when it is pitch dark already?" cried Marryatt, crossly.

"There's Jenkins' one-hoss wagon," mildly suggested the old-man. "I'm goin' to his place d'rectly arter a box o' stove blacking, a paound o' taller dips and quarter o' a paound o' green tea for Isabella. I can tell Jenkins to come raound and cart ye to the station, ef ye don't begrudge a crown."

"By all means; and while you are gone Isabella can give me some supper."

Marryatt sat down in the old, low-ceiled room, where the rag carpet seemed neither brighter nor dimmer than it had been 20 years ago, and warmed his chilled feet before a blaze of snapping logs; while old Isabella, who might have appeared creditably at any tableau as the Witch of Endor, crept around an iron pot which swung from a prodigious crane and got supper after a slow, clumsy manner.

"Pretty gay in town this winter?" said the old woman, brandishing her spoon over him as he ate rabbit stew.

"I suppose so."

"I'm thinkin' o' goin' there myself," said she.

"To take a situation?" asked the young man, inwardly thinking that he could not recommend her as cook.

"Bless your heart, no!" said Isabella. "I know a sea captain there as ain't married; and they tell me the gals is all pickin' and choosin' for themselves now that leap year has come around. Anyhow I'm tired o' this place, and I don't see why my chance ain't as good as anybody's."

Marryatt stared at her in mute amazement, as he secretly deplored the sad case of the unsuspecting sea captain.

"P'raps you wouldn't mind keepin' an eye on the fire," said the gentle Isabella, "while I just go and see if Simon has locked the hen house—he's so forgetful." And she hobbled away.

At the same time there came a loud knocking at the outer door, and a stout country girl, with cheeks of that peculiar red which shines as if it had been varnished, very black eyes and coarse hair, walked in, well wrapped up in a red and black plaid shawl, and a felt hat which looked like a damaged helmet.

"I've come for Mr. Marryatt," said she, without any ceremony of introduction.

Instinctively our hero backed up against the wall.

"What!" cried he.

"You're Mr. Marryatt, ain't you?" said she.

"That's my name," retreating still farther behind the stiff wooden-backed chair, where Uncle Origen used to sit and smoke his pipe.

"Well, I'm come for you. You ain't deaf, be you? I'm—come—for—you!"

"Yes; but I—"

"There ain't no time to lose," bawled this daughter of solitudes, seizing him by the arm. "This here's your baggage?" grasping the valise in the other hand.

This was leap year with a vengeance, thought our hero.

With one desperate struggle he freed himself from her grasp.

"I won't go!" he said. "Nothing can compel me to go against my will."

"You won't?" said the red-cheeked damsel.

"No, I won't," replied John Marryatt.

"Then you will miss the train," said the red-cheeked damsel. "And it won't be no fault of mine. Father has had the rheumatics, and I promised him I would come for you."

"Oh, the train—I see," cried Mr. Marryatt. "I didn't quite comprehend your meaning at first. Yes, I'll come immediately."

The red-cheeked damsel, who proved to be no despicable charioteer, rattled down the frozen mountain road with considerable skill and energy, reaching the solitary station just as the freight train came in sight around a curve.

So Mr. Marryatt arrived in town just in time to see the sunrise glow irradiate the red brick chimney tops behind the Delavan House.

"Not married yet," he said to himself; "but I will be as soon as possible, if she will have me. I'll run no more such risks as this!"

That very afternoon he called at Doctor Mere's house and proposed to Avice—and Avice accepted him. Yes, she actually accepted him!

"But did you really say that?" asked Avice, feeling that it was her duty to admonish her swain a little: "that—that you didn't want to be married against your will?"

"Of course I said it," answered Marryatt, "and I meant it. I don't intend to be married against my will; I intend to be married with it. And did you really say that you wouldn't marry John Marryatt for $50,000?"

"And I wouldn't!" cried Avice, looking up with sparkling eyes. "Not for twice that money, but—just because I love him!"

So they both were happy and laughed heartily over the adventures at Uncle Origen's house.

When Penelope Paxton next saw the bride-elect, she chuckled and said:

"So it isn't to be a case of 'Miss Betty Baxter,' after all?"

Avice colored and said she "didn't know what Miss Penny could possibly mean."

A Proper Request.—"Now, Willie," said mamma, "I want you to keep very quiet. I don't want you to say a word all through dinner." "Ve'y well, mamma," returned Willie. "Only I fink you ought to help by givin' my mouf plenty of fings to eat, so's to keep it busy."

He Kept Still.—Mother—How did your face get that strained, agonized look in your photographs? Did the light hurt your eyes? Small Son—No, ma'am. The man tole me to try to keep still, an' I did Street & Smith's Good News.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what we can do well, and doing well whatever you do, without a thought of fame.—Longfellow.

It is a buy and sell business and a safe investment for all classes. The authorized capital is $1,000,000, of which $570,000 has been paid in. To further increase the business, $80,000 of the Treasury Stock is offered until March 15th, at par, $10 per share. Price of stock will be advanced February 18th to take effect on above date. Lafayette's New Catalogue.

Nearly three hundred students are now enrolled in Lafayette College, in the various courses of study in the classics and engineering or other technical branches. The institution is flourishing under President Warfield's vigorous administration.

The new catalogue just issued shows great increase in the past year in gifts to the library and to the scientific collections. Besides the Free Course in highway construction, there are six distinct lines of study leading to degrees, in any one of which a young man can obtain a thorough education at moderate cost. It is a noteworthy fact that all the graduates in the technical courses, numbering now some hundreds, hold good professional positions. In the learned professions two thousand occupied as lawyers, ministers, editors, physicians or teachers, do honor to the careful training that has fitted them so well for their life-work.

Mrs. Malaprop. "It's provokiug, of course, but I suppose I shouldn't allow myself to feel disappointed. You would be surprised to know how many persons are away from home just now taking the gold cure."

It keeps the children free from humors, my husband says it gives him a good appetite, and for myself I am sure I could never do all my work if it was not for this splendid medicine. It makes me feel strong and cheerful, and I am never troubled with headache or that tired feeling, as I used to be." 4-4-2t

Bits of Human Nature.

From the Indianapolis News.

There never was a sinecure that developed a man's ability.

Our greatest blessings sometimes come in very perplexing disguises.

Experience is necessary for appreciation. Only the man who has counted ties can fully enjoy the luxury of travel by freight train.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles: it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at C. A. Kleim's Drug store, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

THE COLUMBIAN,
Bloomsburg, Pa.

FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1892.

The House has passed bills putting wool, cotton ties and bagging on the free list.

A bill has been reported to the House by the Ways and Means Committee putting tin plates on the free list after October 1, 1894.

Ex-Senator William A. Wallace has announced that he favors the nomination of Governor Pattison for President. The two had an interview last week, with the above result.

The present indications are that Quay will control the next Republican State Convention, as his men are being chosen as delegates in many counties. The Republican leaders of Columbia county are solid for him, as usual.

Fuller returns in Rhode Island show that the Republican candidate for Governor has been elected, also the Lieutenant Governor. The Attorney General and State Treasurer did not receive a majority of the whole vote, so the legislature will elect.

President Harrison spent a day in Virginia last week, gunning for snipe, and went home with a bag full of game. He is gunning for something bigger just now, and expects to bag the Republican renomination for President before the season is over.

W. U. Hensel can justly feel proud of the large vote polled for him as delegate at-large to the National convention. A difference of 74 votes between his and the lowest vote of the successful delegate, and of 301 votes on the highest cast for any of the opposition. It is a just recognition of his ability and a proof of the great friendship among the representative democrats of the State.

The result of the recent Convention at Harrisburg demonstrates that Wm. Harrity is the best organizer in the democratic party. The attendance at the Convention was the largest ever known; while the combined opposition used every means to thwart the will of the majority. In a test vote Mr Harrity's strength was found to be almost 4 to 1. Mr. Harrity is a bold, aggressive, fearless leader, around whom the people quickly rally. In the gubernatorial contest of 1890, he found himself a successful leader and a democratic governor was the result. With his counsel in the presidential battle this fall, the republican party must have a good organization or Pennsylvania will fall into the democratic column.

INSULT TO JUSTICE.

Mr Krickbaum tried to deceive his readers in his last week's paper, by saying that the appointment of Secretary of the Bloom Poor District, was a people's victory and a defeat of Senator Herring, who had no more to do with it than the man in the moon. The sum and substance in a nut shell is when Mr. Larish asked Mr. Mercer to support him for the nomination of Poor Director, Mr. Mercer promised him to do so, and was faithful to his promise and used all honorable means to elect him at the general election by being on the ground from the time the polls opened until they closed soliciting votes, and employed a man to drive his conveyance to haul Larish and Hidlay voters to the polls, they being the regular nominees.

Now what did Mr. Krickbaum do? He opposed Larish's nomination, and did all in his power underhandedly to defeat him at the general election, and no sooner than Larish was declared elected he persuaded him to go against his friend Mercer and being successful in overcoming poor Larish's weakness, he calls it a "people's victory," which is an insult to justice and a parallel case to his securing his nomination to go to the Chicago Convention which he claims as a similar victory. People who know Krickbaum's methods can not be fooled with this kind of chaff.

Krickbaum is always boasting of his honest democracy. Will he be kind enough to tell his readers how he voted for Governor when Pattison was first a candidate, also how he voted for President when Cleveland was first a candidate, and how often since he had office he has bolted the ticket. This will be in order to explain before he asks the honest democrats to elect him to the third term for the legislature?

Arnots Fight Against the Deal.

PAPERS FILED AT WILLIAMSPORT IN BEHALF OF THE RAILROAD COMPANIES.

WILLIAMSPORT, April 12.—Further papers were filed to-day in the bill in equity of Matthias Arnot against the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company and the other corporations included in the Reading deal.

They consist of a separate answer by the Central railroad company of New Jersey to the original and supplemental complaint of Arnot; the demurrer of the Philadelphia and Reading coal and iron company; the separate answer of the Reading company, the plea of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre coal company; the separate answer of the Lehigh coal and navigation company; the demurrer of the Lehigh Valley coal company; and the separate answer of the Lehigh Valley railroad company.

The papers were presented by John G. Reading, jr., solicitor of the various corporations concerned, and Grant Herring, W. H. Rhawn, S. P. Wolverton, Richard C Dale, Samuel Dickson, Francis I. Gowen, and M. E. Olmsted, representing particular companies.

I suffered from acute inflammation in my nose and head—for a week at a time I could not see. I used Ely's Cream Balm and in a few days I was cured. It is wonderful how quick it helped me.—Mrs. Georgie S. Judson, Hartford, Conn.

For three weeks I was suffering from a severe cold in my head, accompanied by a pain in my temples. Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me. After only six applications of the Balm every trace of my cold was removed.—Henry C. Clark, New York appraiser's Office. 4-15-2t

A Talk With Gov. Campbell.

THE DEMOCRATIC MASSES IN OHIO ARE FOR CLEVELAND, HE SAYS.

Ex-Gov. Campbell stopped over in Washington Monday on his way back to New York from Fortress Monroe, where he had been resting for the past three days. He was warmly welcomed at the Capitol by his numerous friends, and had a brief chat with Speaker Crisp.

Gov. Campbell said the Democratic Presidential prospects were bright. He thought that the Democrats had strong grounds for hope in Rhode Island, that in a national contest no local questions would be involved, and that with the Democrats aroused there was a good fighting chance

"Out in Ohio," said he, "the sentiment of the Democratic masses is for Cleveland. Do I think Mr. Cleveland can win? I think if any Democratic nominee can win he can."

"Papa, I could hardly get John home with the whip." "My son, tell the groom to give the horse some Bull's-Head Horse and Cattle Powder in his feed. He is suffering from the loss of vital energy. Here is 25 cents for a package."

Muncy's Bank Mystery.

DETECTIVES WILL INDEAVOR TO FIND OUT HOW THE $20,000 DISAPPEARED.

The mystery of the missing $20,000 belonging to Muncy Bank is to be cleared up if skill can accomplish that result.

A. R. Barrett, an expert accountant, and O. F. Saltmarsh, a Government detective have been sent by Comptroller Lacey for the purpose of making a thorough examination with the view of locating the leak by which the money disappeared.

Receiver Collins was closeted with these officials. They have engaged hotel accommodations for a month, and will begin the work before them at once.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.

A needy woman—the one who's overworked, nervous, and debilitated. What she needs is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's made exactly to fit her case—an invigorating, restorative tonic, and a soothing and strengthening nervine, giving tone and vigor to the whole system. But it isn't a mere stimulant. It's a legitimate medicine, that an experienced physician has carefully prepared, for woman's ailments. All the functional derangements, chronic weaknesses, and painful disorders peculiar to the sex, are corrected and cured by it.

And because it's a certain remedy, it can be made a guaranteed one. If it fails to give satisfaction, in any case, you have your money back.

The best pill costs less than any other. Costs less, but does more. They're smaller, too, and easier to take. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best pills. They regulate perfectly the liver, stomach, and bowels.

Professor A. D. Meloy, of the Normal, Lock Haven, has a fortune in hand. He has invented a burner for the electric light, so that it can be managed the same as an oil or gas light. He uses one in his room and it works like a charm. It will do away with the old system—"full blaze or out." He has applied for a patent, and it is understood that the sockets or new burners will be manufactured by an organized company at Lock Haven.

The poets sing, in dainty rhymes,
Of summer days and sunny climes,
Of beauteous maidens, passing fair,
With witching eyes and waiving hair,
'Tis but an "ad" for P. F. P.:

that is, Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the infallible and guaranteed remedy for all kinds of female weakness, which cures the ailments of the feeble, "run-down" and debilitated women, and restores them to youthfulness and beauty once more. The price of this royal remedy, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is but $1.00 a bottle, and money refunded in every case if it doesn't give satisfaction. See guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

NEAR POTTSGROVE, PA.,—I cannot say too much for your Liquid Extract of Smoke, it is excellent and will do just what you recommend; easily applied, less trouble and expense, and can hang it in a more secure place than a smoke house, and gives the meat a good flavor, better than you can get from wood, and keeps it solid and entirely free from insects. I recommend it to all who smoke meat. J. B. KRAMER.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

THE LARGEST EVER HELD IN THE STATE.

Cleveland for President.

The Democratic State Convention convened at Harrisburg Wednesday, April 13, at 12 o'clock noon. The convention eclipsed anything ever held in the state, both in regard to numbers and enthusiasm. There seemed to be a general opinion that the convention would be one that would present the name of not only a successful candidate for the nomination but one that would be a winner in the November election. The representative democrats were early in securing rooms at the lately remodeled hotels. The Democratic State Central Committee secured rooms and made the Commonwealth Hotel their head quarters. Hon. Grant Herring reached Harrisburg Monday evening, and took rooms in the Commonwealth and soon entered into conference with Secretary Harrity and Attorney General Hensel. William A. Wallace and Jas. M. Guffey representing the anti-administration people took rooms at the Bolton House. Tuesday morning William Krickbaum, Rohr McHenry, Dr. F. W. Redeker and Robert Buckingham, Esq., went to Harrisburg; Wm. Krickbaum and the two delegates took rooms at the Bolton House, and Robt. Buckingham at the United States. On the noon train County Chairman Townsend, J. K. Bittenbender, together with the remaining three delegates, A. D. Seely, Thomas Boran and Jesse Rittenhouse, started for the Capitol. The three delegates took rooms at the Bolton House, while County Chairman Townsend and J. K. Bittenbender went to the Commonwealth. At four o'clock the Congressional District Delegates composed of Northumberland 7, Columbia 5, Montour 2, and Sullivan 1, went into a committee room for the purpose of electing two delegates to the National Convention. Upon a call of roll the result was as follows: C. H. Dickerman of Northumberland received 5 from Columbia, 2 from Montour, 7 from Northumberland and 1 from Sullivan, total 15, being the entire delegation; Wm. Krickbaum of Columbia, received 5 from Columbia, and 3 from Northumberland, total 8; Peter McCann of Montour received 2 from Montour, 4 from Northumberland and 1 from Sullivan, total 7. C. H. Dickerman and Wm Krickbaum having each received a majority of the votes cast were declared the delegates elected. Immediately after supper the senatorial district, composed of Lycoming 7, Columbia 5, Montour 2, and Sullivan 1, went into committee and selected J. F. Streighby of Lycoming as member of committee on credentials; Dr. F. W. Redeker of Columbia, as member of committee on rules; and Ambrose Farrell of Sullivan as member of committee on organization. A motion was made by a member from Lycoming county that Hon. Grant Herring be unanimously endorsed for delegate at large to the National Convention. Upon call for vote, three of the delegates from Columbia county refused to vote, notwithstanding that they were instructed at the late committee meeting, by a vote of 12 to 19 to vote for Senator Herring.

The evening was one of bustle and confusion, occasioned by the meetings of the various congressional and senatorial delegates. There was much wire pulling done by the twenty-four different persons who were contesting for eight places as delegates at large to the National Convention. About 2 o'clock a. m., we received the intelligence that the Administration had slated Hon. Grant Herring as one of the delegates-at-large and assured him that he would be selected. It was a worthy selection as will be seen by the large vote he polled from the various districts.

At twelve o'clock, noon, the large hall was crowded, and Chairman J. Marshall Wright, called the meeting to order, stating that he was ready to receive nominations for temporary chairman. Immediately Hon. F. F. Beltzhoven of Cumberland was chosen. Upon taking the chair he gave a powerful address, outlining what would be the work of the convention, and eulogizing the public record of Ex-President Grover Cleveland and Governor Robert E. Pattison. Whenever he mentioned the name of Cleveland or Pattison, cheer after cheer rent the air retarding his speech. At half past one the names of committees on credentials, rules and organization were read and the convention took a recess of two hours. When the convention re-assembled at four o'clock the following administration ticket was circulated among the delegates. For electors-at-large Mortimer F. Elliot, Tioga; John C. Bullitt, Philadelphia; Thomas B. Kennedy, Franklin; David T. Watson, Allegheny; for delegates-at-large, George Ross of Bucks, W. U. Hensel of Lancaster, W. M. Singerly of Philadelphia, Chas. Robinson of Lackawanna, Harry Alvan Hall of Elk, John L. McKinney of Crawford, Grant Herring of Columbia, Henry Meyer of Alleghany. When the chairman called the meeting to order there was not a vacant place to be found, all the available space, chairs and standing room was occupied—one solid mass of enthusiastic democrats. Senator Hall of Elk county, chairman of Committee on credentials read the report which had been unanimously adopted. Upon the conclusion of the report the chairman moved the adoption of the report, and the call for the previous question. A lively discussion ensued by the antis, but this following was so weak that chairman Beltzhoover easily ruled against them, and called for the report of the committee on organization, who named Hon. George Ross of Franklin County for permanent chairman.

Mr. Ross on assuming the chair as the permanent chairman of the convetion, in a masterly speech, held the close attention of the vast audience. At the close of his speech Senator M. P. Read of Philadelphia, chairman, read the following rules:

LIBERAL PENSIONS FAVORED.

We, the Democracy of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, join with our political associates of other states in the effort to restore the control of the executive branch of the federal government to the party of the people.

We pledge anew our fealty to the principles first declared by the illustrious men who founded our free institutions and established the Democratic party to protect and preserve them.

We believe in the doctrines which have been taught and the practices which have been enforced in the administration of government by Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, by Samuel J. Tilden and Grover Cleveland.

We believe in and we declare for honest and economical administration; for local self-government, for honest money, the gold and silver coinage of the constitution and for a currency convertible into such coinage without loss; for that genuine civil service reform which recognizes public office as a public trust; for liberal but not reckless pensions, and for the speedy abatement of all forms of needless and oppressive taxation.

REFORM OF THE TARIFF LAWS.

With special relation to the pending political conditions in the country and commonwealth, we Resolve and declare:

1. That the paramount reform now demanded of the federal legislature is the reform of the tariff laws, upon the basis of the Democratic national platform of 1888, to the end that no money shall be needlessly exacted from the industries and necessities of the people; and that our industrial interests shall not be prejudiced by excessive taxation, false systems of finance, or extravagant cost of production. To this end the McKinley tariff bill should be repealed, the essential raw materials of American manufactures should be put upon the free list and a revised tariff should be adopted, with due regard for the rights of American labor and the preservation of our manufactures.

2. That, consistent with this issue and with this demand, the sentiment of the Pennsylvania Democracy is overwhelmingly for the renomination to the presidency of the man who gave to his party intellectual and political leadership and to the country a pure and elevated administration. We declare our convictions that the best interests of the party and of the country demand the nomination and as president, and we are confident that under his leadership the principles of Democracy will win a glorious victory; and, to the end that the vote and influence of Pennsylvania may be most effectively heard and felt, the delegates this day chosen are directed to act as a unit in all matters entrusted to their charge, said action to be determined by the vote of the majority of the delegates.

3. That the honest, courageous and efficient administration of Robert E. Pattison, governor of Pennsylvania, merits the approval and confidence of the people of the commonwealth, and has the hearty commendation of the party whose standard he twice carried to victory; that his efforts to enforce the constitution and the laws are praiseworthy and patriotic, and have our unqualified approval.

4. That the action of the Republican state senate in evading the duty of pronouncing judgment upon faithless state officials was a cowardly subterfuge and a disgraceful violation of public duty.

THE DEMOCRATIC SOCIETIES.

5. That in accordance with the recommendation of the national Democratic committee, the Democratic state, county and city committees are advised and directed to further by every means in their power the organization of regular Democratic societies in every disirict, and the union of such societies in the Democratic society of Pennsylvania and the national association of Democratic clubs.

Resolved, That we cordially approve the action of the Democratic state central committee in selecting William F. Harrity to fill the vacancy in the Democratic national committee, caused by the death of the late William L. Scott; and we hereby declare Mr. Harrity to be the choice of the Democracy of Pennsylvania for the full term of membership of the Democratic national committee which begins in June next.

FILLING VACANCIES.

Resolved, That the Democratic state central committee of Pennsylvania is hereby authorized to fill any and all vacancies that may occur after the adjournment of the convention in the position of candidate for judge of the supreme court, of candidate for congressman at-large, of candidate for presidential elector-at-large or of delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention, by the nomination or election of suitable persons to fill such vacancies: Provided that should any vacancy in the position of delegate-at-large occur on or after June 1, 1892, then such vacancy shall be filled by the remaining delegates-at-large.

Resolved, That the delegates to this state convention from their several congressional districts be authorized to fill any vacancies that may occur in the position of district candidate for presidential elector or of delegate to the national convention.

When the chairman concluded the reading of the Rules he moved their adoption which was promptly answered. Jno. M. Garman, of Luzerne county offered a substitute to Rule 2, but after some discussion the substitution was withdrawn and the resolutions adopted.

After the adoption of the resolutions the following persons were elected by acclamation. For Judge of the Supreme Court, Hon. Christopher Heydrick. For Congressmen at-large, Thos. P. Merritt of Bucks county, and Geo. A. Allen of Erie. For Electors at-large, Mortimer F. Elliot, of Tioga, John C. Bullitt of Philadelphia; Thos. B. Kennedy of Franklin; and David T. Watson, of Allegheny.

Then followed the only test of strength between the administration delegation and the anti-administration, when the following was placed in nominatiion for Delegates at large, and upon call of roll received the respective votes opposite their names:

W. U. Hensel, Lancaster,	424
George Ross, Bucks,	418
Charles Robison, Lackawanna,	399
Grant Herring, Columbia,	384
Harry A. Hall, Elk,	376

Jos. P. O'Brien, Erie,	123
Jas. M. Guffey, Allegheny,	118
Geo. F. Baer, Berks,	113
Wm. A. Wallace, Clearfield,	111

The first eight receiving the highest vote were declared elected, whereupon John M. Gorman of Luzerne moved that their election be made a unanimous vote, which prevailed.

The following were chosen by the Senatorial districts as electors:

Samuel Gustine Thompson, Clement R. Wainwright, Adam S. Conway, Charles H. Lafferty, W. Redwood Wright, George R. Guss, John O. James, Wm. Molan, James Duffy, Chas. D. Breck, S. W. Trimmer, Samuel S. DR. MORITZ SALM.

This eminent Physician has devoted a life-time to his specialty—diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Lung and Chronic Diseases.

The Doctor has been for years a Professor and lecturer in several of our largest Medical Colleges, and has earned great fame as an authority and author on all subjects concerning his specialty.

The celebrated Authors and Medical Lecturers and Greatest living Specialists for the treatment and cure of all long-standing and difficult Chronic diseases, and diseases of the Blood, Nervous System, and Eye and Ear, Nose and Throat, will visit this county and meet their many patients and friends, and give ALL AFFLICTED an opportunity to consult them Free of Charge, and secure the latest and best treatment for such diseases as the regular family physician is not prepared to treat.

The Doctor's reputations are not only National but Continental, as they have visited Europe several times and treated thousands of cases, and made many remarkable cures, while bringing together their Anatomical Museum and fine collection of instruments, appliances, etc, which is the largest and finest collection now owned by any one in the country.

They will visit this county every four weeks, thus saving their patients the trouble and expense of visiting the city, as they are the only physicians and surgeons in this country who carry their own Manikins, Models Diagrams, etc. to illustrate and make plain to all afflicted the cause and nature of their disease.

CHRONIC DISEASES.

The Doctors treat no acute diseases, but make an entire specialty of chronic and long standing diseases. Cases given up by other doctors and pronounced incurable, they most desire to see. The Doctors have treated over 15,000 cases in Ohio in the last twelve years, many of which had been given up as incurable, some to be blind, others deaf, and a large number of the invalids for life. But behold! now they See and hear, and many are started on the high road to health and recovery every day.

The doctors are surrounded with the largest collection of fine instruments ever imported to this country for examining and treating all chronic diseases of the HEAD, FACE, EYE, EAR, THROAT, HEART, LUNGS, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Skin, Brain and Nervous System, Cancers, Tumors, Piles, Swellings Old Sores, Fits, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gout, Sick Headache, Debility, Depression of Spirits, Diseases of Children, Hereditary Diseases, &c., and in fact, all long-standing and Chronic Diseases.

EAR TROUBLES ARE CURED

In an astonishing quick time. They will relieve you of all roaring, hissing and singing noises, heaviness, itching, pain, running of the ear, will close up a hole in a drum of fifty years standing: will insert Artificial Ear Drums of their own invention with astonishingly gratifying results.

Diseases of Women, such as have baffled the skill of all other physicians and remedies, quickly cured. Cancers, tumors, fibroid and polypoid growth cured without the use of the knife or caustics. No cutting, no pain, no danger.

A WORD ABOUT CATARRH.

It is in the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established it eats into the very vitals and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insiduously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings, lerding to a fatal termination. The Drs. have by a treatment local and constitutional, made the cure of this dread disease a certainty, and has never failed. Even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions hearing, smell and taste have been removed, and the disease thoroughly averted.

They recognize the great principal that genius or talent, or exceptional skill in and profession, is a great public trust to be executed for the greatest good for the greatest number, hence they call your attention to the fact of their visit to your community, and to what you may expect from their treatment. The Doctors have devoted years to the study and treatment of

Chronic and Complicated Diseases,

Which other physicians failed to treat successfully. Those delicate functions of the human frame, whose derangements have for centuries defied human skill, have in many cases yielded to the patient investigation and untiring perseverance of these doctors, and thousands of sufferers from diseases heretofore pronounced incurable, have consulted these gentlemen and been by them restored to health and usefulness

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EYE,

Such as Granulated Lids, Chronic Inflammation of the Lids, or the Iris, of the Choroid, of the Retina, Chronic Ulcerations, Spasms of the Lids, Cancer of the Lids and Eye, Tears running over the cheeks, Day and Night Blindness Purulent or Mattering Sore Eyes, Gonorrheal Ophthalmia, Syphilitic Ophthalmia, Red Blotches or Brown ones on the Ball, Phlyctennior Ophthalmia. The Gamey Trout.

WHERE THE LARGEST ARE FOUND.

The trout season opens on Friday April 15, in every county in the State excepting Pike county, where the season opens on May 1, and will last until August 1. No doubt there will be an exodus from this town on the morning of the fifteenth and the preceding day. The prospects for big catches this year are very bright. Mr. Al Drinker of Scranton said recently, "Every indication points to a good trout season and especially during the fifteen days of April. The winter has been open and the streams have been high, consequently the trout have been well fed and some big fat ones will undoubtedly be landed. During recent years the Fish Commissioners have stocked the State streams and the fish are well developed by this time, so a great plenty of them can be anticipated."

WHERE TO FISH.

For a man who wants to spend a day or a week fishing, Proctor Inn at Jameson City, and J W. Perry's at Elk Grove, offord ample accommodations. The Central Park Hotel at Central, Exchange Hotel and McHenry's Hotel at Benton are also favorite resorts for fisherman. Persons who want to spend time at it will find scores of available spots of easy access from here. The head waters of Fishingcreek is one of the best trout districts in the State.

POINTERS FOR BEGINNERS.

The best bait to be used in the early season is the red angle worm or an artificial worm made by mixing together oil, flour and long fibered cotton until it forms a kind of paste. With this plastic substance bait in the shape of the worm can be easily moulded. The latter bait is preferable for deep water fishing when a sinker is used. Artificial rubber minnows or the real article if they can be secured are also a good bait for early angling. Fly fishing can be properly pursued after May 1, but earlier than that the worm is the best bait.

Of rods, there are many varieties ranging in price as high as $45. A cheap and durable rod which is a general favorite is the cork handled, split bamboo rod found at all houses selling sporting goods. There are scores of hooks and hundreds of flies to select from, while in lines, baskets, bait boxes, wading breeches and last but by no means least, bait bottles, there are also numerous varieties all of which are kept in stock at Schuyler's in Bloomsburg, Bittenbender's in Benton. One of the new things in reels is one made of Aluminum, which is capable of carrying 3000 feet of line and yet weighs but two ounces. Another excellent thing is "Lollocapop," a kind of soap which if rubbed on the face and hands, keeps off mosquitoes and other insects.

Many people who pride themselves on their blue blood would be far happier with pure blood; but, while we cannot choose our ancestors, fortunately, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, we can transmit pure blood to our posterity.

The Pardee Estate.

A VAIN SEARCH BEING MADE FOR A WILL.

There has been a great stirring up of papers and documents in the office of the late Ario Pardee at Hazleton in search for a will. The friends, relatives and attorneys of the dead millionaire felt positive there was such a paper and the surprise of everyone was great in consequence when no such document was discovered. Certain educational and charitable institutions have long held the belief, it is understood, that when Ario Pardee died they would be handsomely remembered. Now of course everything goes to the widow and the children, and this fact, too, may possibly lead to a dispute. Mr. Pardee, as is well known, was married twice and raised nine children.

The fact that there was no will left will of course enure to the benefit of the widow and this may not suit the elder children by the first wife. In fact a law suit may result from the division of the property. Things have been left in rather a tangled shape and the men closest to him in business now confess they know nothing about his affairs. The property and personal estate, according to those who know the most, will certainly amount to $30,000,000. Private Secretary Neebe who has been searching for a will believes there is none and steps will be taken to-day or to-morrow to secure letters testamentary from Register of Wills Weaver. To issue these it will require one or more men to go on a bond for at least $5,000,000, to cover the personal estate. This will probably be as large a bond as was ever accepted by a Register in Pennsylvania. The fact that there were no bequests made to public institutions leaves the State out in the cold as for instance if half a million had been left to Lafayette College 5 per cent or $25,000, collateral tax would go to Pennsylvania.—Leader.

Life Close to the Bone.

POVERTY THAT LACKS THE CENTS TO BUY A LEMON.

Oh, that other half of the world. If you have never experienced it how can you tell how it lives? There is one incident told by a pale-faced tenement house resident. She has seen prosperous days, but now has, or had, only a sick husband and four little children.

"One needs so many things!" she sighed plaintively. "One day last week I was out of coal and I sent out for a bushel, but I only had eight cents; the coal was nine. The coal man said he would wait until I could pay the rest. Then my husband wanted a sour drink. He had a burning fever, poor fellow, and wanted a lemon so bad" she stopped her flying needle just long enough to wipe away a tear—there were other mouths to be fed—"but I didn't have the two cents to buy the lemon—and—and—I couldn't get it." Then she broke entirely down and sobbed aloud with her apron over her face. "Oh, it seems as if I wouldn't have felt half so bad when I saw his dear, dead face in the coffin yesterday if I hadn't thought how he wanted that drink and I could not get it! I wake up in the night and think of it until it seems as if it will drive me wild!"

Then she choked back the sobs and hurried on with her work. The woman's earnings by making pants at 85 cents per dozen grow smaller with every moment taken for tears.

But can you imagine it? A shortage of three cents to buy necessaries of life! The lack of two pennies to get a drink to cool the fevered thirst of a loved one who is dying, making life a long agony of regret! Did you ever realize before the value of a postage stamp?—St. Louis Chronicle.

The Germans in Russia.

BY REV. GEORGE F. BEHRINGER.

The appeal for the relief of the famine stricken German Lutherans in Russia awakens a desire to know something of their origin and history.

In the year 1762, Empress Catharine II of Russia issued an imperial edict, inviting colonists to settle on the banks of the Volga river, in the far eastern portion of her European domains. A double motive inspired the proclamation, viz.: that these settlements should form a bulwark against the marauding invasions of Mongolian tribes; and that the German colonies should serve as an educating example to the native inhabitants.

Accordingly, towards the close of the last century, about 25,000 Germans settled on government lands, along the right bank of the Volga, in the provinces of Saratov and Samara. At first they received government support and endured a severe struggle for existence. But soon, by thrift and industry, they reached a condition of self-support. About the year 1830 all debts to the government had been paid, and thenceforward the colonists enjoyed uninterrupted prosperity for half a century.

The period from 1840 to 1879 marked their highest development. More than 200 farming villages and agricultural towns, populated by 300,000 prosperous German colonists, gave evidence of a civilization superior to that of the neighboring tribes.

The success of these Volga colonies was owing, under God, to the following reasons: the influence of church and school; the industry of the colonists; the fertility of the soil; and the special privileges of local self-government. The governing officials and their language were German. In the beginning no military service was required. But when the Russian serfs were freed, the German officers were removed, and both serfs and colonists were placed under the Government officials, and military service was exacted.

The first serious blow to the prosperity of the Volga colonies were the famine years of 1879 and 1880 which mark the beginning of their decline. Since then there have been four seasons of partial failure and three of total failure of all crops. During these seven years not enough of grain was saved, even for seed. The misery of the famine is universal and indescribable.

This entire region, at one time a granary for millions, has become a desolate waste. Every foot of the land is mortgaged beyond redemption. The local funds of corporations have been exhausted; and no money can be borrowed, for even the native money-lenders have been reduced to penury. The mills are standing idle, since there is no grain to grind. All the domestic animals, the horse included, have long since been eaten for food. Even the supply of roots, dug out of the ground, has failed. And as a climax to the horrors of famine, typhus fever is carrying hundreds of the stricken colonists.

To save themselves from a death by starvation thousands have migrated to different sections of the vast Russian empire, only to find similar conditions existing elsewhere.

Those who remained on the Volga have depended upon charity to eke out a miserable existence. The Government has extended limited aid, but not always with impartiality. Those favoring the "orthodox" state church have been preferred to Lutherans and dissenters.

To the misery of famine has been added the want of fuel. Neither wood nor coal is to be had. The fuel in common use is a compressed mixture of peat and barnyard manure! And of this there is but a limited supply, for cattle and horses have long since disappeared. Countless thousands have already perished of famine and fever and cold. It is no longer a question of how many shall die, but how many may yet be saved!

The outlook for the future is gloomy indeed. The condition of the rye and winter wheat sown last fall, under unfavorable circumstances, is not at all assuring. Another failure of the crops would mean the utter extinction of the Volga settlements. Emigration en masse to this country, if the means could be provided, would seem to be the last and only hope of the starving people. Churches and schools are closed, for the communities are unable to provide for pastors and teachers.

If now inquiry be made, why so large an area of fertile country, hitherto blessed with immense crops, should be so completely ruined within so short a time, several reasons may be given.

The destruction of the forests along the Volga is no doubt a primary cause of the drought prevailing for the past seven years. Another reason is the faulty system of land tenure. The farming lands are government property and are leased for a term not exceeding five years.

Under this system several generations of tenant farms have simply exhausted the fertility of the soil. Uncertain as to their lease, and not being compensated for their improvements, they have persistently failed to feed the land, and so have failed to feed themselves in the end.

In additon to these material reasons there are moral causes which have aided in the ruin of the colonists. During the years of great plenty a growing carelessness marked the conduct of the people. The masses were content to live in the spirit of the heathen motto: "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die." And even the spiritual leaders of the people failed to read the hand-writing on the wall!

Besides the churches and schools, whose development was not such as to meet the greater demands of an increasing population, no societies for social, moral, or political improvement have existed. In all that vast area of farm lands, at least 100,000 actual tillers of the soil, not a single agricultural society is to be found to encourage an intelligent cultivation of the soil. All social conditions are exceedingly primitive. The people live in all respects just as they did one hundred years ago!

This reasoning will of course not save the starving remnants still surviving. The helping hand of charity, already so nobly extended from this and other lands, can alone prevent the utter extinction of these sufferers. Out of their miseries there speaks to us a Divine voice: "But to do good and to communicate forget not, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased."—Lutheran Observer.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 11, 1892.

Republicans are no longer doing much talking about the "do nothing House". Passing two tariff bills—free wool and free cotton ties and bagging—in one week is legislating entirely too fast to suit the republicans, and then the subject of this legislation is not a pleasant one for them to contemplate; it recalls memories of the cyclone of '88, which makes their knees shake at the prospects for its duplication next November.

It has leaked out that prominent republican members of the Senate Finance Committee wish to dodge the tariff issue by smothering these bills in committee, that is not reporting them back to the Senate at all—they do not wish to hear, nor to allow the country to hear the tariff speech which Senator Carlisle has prepared, nor that of Senator Mills, which was not delivered in the House, because the Senator preferred it to be his maiden speech in the Senate.

Another reason for wishing to smother these bills is that there are several republican Senators who are considered by the republican leaders as shaky on the tariff question. Democratic Senators have served notice on the republicans that they would resist the smothering process, and intended to have a vote and a discussion, which would show the country where the Senate stands, and that may result in making the dodgers toe the mark.

Commissioner Raum's attempt to draw the attention of the country away from his own shortcomings and mismanagement of the Pension bureau, because a man who had been employed by Representative Cooper, of Indiana, had used that gentleman's signature to obtain information from the Pension office, which he afterwards sold for his own benefit to pension attorneys, was a flat failure; that Mr. Cooper knew nothing about the transactions was fully shown by letters in Raum's possession.

The ease with which a real estate pool has been shuffling off depreciated ground upon the government at a fabulous price is creating much talk. Last year all Washington wondered why a bill was smoothly passed locating the Postoffice on the south side of Pennsylvania Avenue, in the most disreputable part of the city. At least three prices were paid by Congress for the ground; and now the engineers are trying to find a foundation on the site in a swamp and under water. A plan has been devised to line the entire cellar, covering a square, with Portland and cement, like a cistern, and a pumping apparatus will be used to keep it dry. The cellar will be placed on 40 foot piles.

Last week a bill was presented in the Senate to build a new Patent Office in the same locality and on a like foundation at a cost of $3,500 000. To understand the situation, the reader must know that the glory of Pennsylvania Avenue has departed. The low, unhealthful locality, subject to overflow, has been abandoned for higher ground, three blocks north, on F. and G. streets, where are now all the best stores and most of the government buildings. The Avenue property owners have formed a lobby to unload their declining real estate upon the Government. They are assisted by the largest paper here, which has a plant on the Avenue, by a syndicate of real estate agents, who get a goodly slice in commissions, and it is surmised that there are Members and Senators whose hands are not clean. This is more than a local scandal. Every paper in the country should take editorial cognizance of it, and every reader should cut this article out and send it to his member or Congress. There are too many members of Congress who vote gregariously, and hence ignorantly. There should be no excuse for ignorance, when this bill comes to a vote.

Assistant Secretary Nettleton is the guilty man. It is he who was responsible for the spending, without legal authority, of a large sum of money at Ellis Island, money that was certainly extravagantly lavished upon favored contractors, and which later developments may show to have been dishonestly expended. Immigration affairs have been taken out of Nettleton's hands, but that is not enough; every member of the House and Senate committees on Immigration, which are conducting this investigation, believes that he should be compelled to resign. Superintendent Owen had nothing to do with spending the money, but the investigation has made his general incompetence so plain that it may be regarded as certain that he will have to retire.

Representative McCreary introduced in the House a bill prepared by Representative Springer, providing for the holding of an international monetary Congress, to endeavor to reach an interna ional agreement as to the relation which should be maintained between gold and silver and the uniformity in weight and fineness of coins. The bill is a long one, and was prepared by Mr. Springer previous to his late illness.

Only three democrats—English of New Jersey, Coburn of Wisconsin and O'Neill of Missouri—voted against the bill to put cotton ties on the free list.

WALLER.

Mr. M. S. Remly took a trip to the county seat on Saturday.

Rev. J. G. Whitmire, the new Evangelical minister, occupies Jacob Hirleman's house, on account of the parsonage being still in the possession of the former pastor.

A Grange was organized at this place last Saturday with about twenty members. Some of them, however were formerly connected with another Grange, but yet we think this is a beginning.

We are highly pleased with the appearance and contents of the paper which our neighbor town has started. Although Benton is nearer us and the Argus meets our approval, yet we would be lost without a Bloomsburg paper, and for true, bright, newsy every day reading, we want the COLUMBIAN every time.

Sickness and death seem to be increasing wonderfully in this community. Several houses have been left vacant by deaths in the past few months, and there is still a great deal of sickness yet.

Mr. Clarence Butt will superintend the Union Sunday school this summer with Mr. J. Preston Yorks as assistant.

THE STEAM LAUNDRY.

The Bloomsburg Steam Laundry started on Monday, and began with as much work as they could do this week. The laundry has all the latest machinery, and is prepared to do good work. The clothes are washed by steam, instead of having the dirt eaten out by lye. All work is called for and delivered.

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectually eradicated only by the use of powerful alteratives. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alteratives.

"I consider that I have been

several hundred dollars' expense, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and would strongly urge all who are troubled with lameness or rheumatic pains to give it a trial. I am sure it will do them permanent good, as it has done me."—Mrs. Joseph Wood, West Plattsburgh, N. Y.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and about a dozen bottles, was restored to perfect health—weighing 230 pounds—and am now a believer in the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—James Petsy, Mine Boss, Breckenridge Coal Co. (Limited), Victoria, Ky.

"My niece, Sarah A. Losee, was for years afflicted with scrofulous humor in the blood. About 18 months ago she began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles was completely cured."—E. Caffall, P. M., Losee, Utah.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

The plague of breaking lamp chimneys is abroad in the land. There are two sorts of chimneys; brittle and tough. Ninety-nine in a hundred are brittle. The worst are imported from Germany. The best are Macbeth's "Pearl-top" & "Pearl-glass."

Two sorts as to workmanship; fine and coarse. The fine are Macbeth's "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass." The coarse are rough and out of proportion; misfits and misshapen; they do not make a good draft; they smoke.

Two sorts as to glass; transparent and gray. "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass" are clear, fine and tough—not tough against accident—tough against heat.

Call for "Pearl-top" or "Pearl-glass" chimneys.
